Dear families,

Re: Anti-bullying accreditation

At William Harding safeguarding is our top priority. We deal with unkind behaviour and any incidents of bullying. All forms of bullying can be devastating, and we know that being bullied because of your background or identity can have even more profound implications.

Each year we take part in anti-bullying week and within our e-safety days, we also look at cyberbullying. We have also taken part in the Equaliteach anti-bullying programme. We are pleased to announce that we have completed the programme focusing on preventing and tackling identity-based bullying. I have attached our certificate below. The assessor for the programme was very pleased with our approach and said "Congratulations on achieving so much for your school and for your pupils and their families. "

As part of the programme we have identified a small group of Y6 pupils who are Agents for Change. They have been trained to support pupils and to work with Mrs White to continue to promote anti-bullying messages in our school.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs Skinner
